

STCW Course Information and Timetable

Monday & Tuesday

8.00am - 4.00pm

STCW Personal Survival

CLOTHING

In water training: Please bring swimming attire, sunscreen, bottle for water/thermos.

After water training: Please bring a change of clothes and towel/shower kit. A warm jacket, hat and gloves is recommended for training in the cooler months.

Wednesday & Thursday

8.00am - 5.00pm

STCW Basic Firefighting

CLOTHING

Please bring old clothes to wear under overalls (t-shirt, shorts, socks - you'll get extremely hot) and a water bottle. Toi Ohomai will provide overalls, boots and gloves. Long hair must be tied up.

Friday

8.00am - 12.00pm

STCW Personal Safety & Social Responsibilities

Personal Safety and Social Responsibilities involves both compulsory online study and one half day on-campus.

Once you're enrolled, please ensure that you have received instructions for logging into our learning platform 'Moodle'. If you have not received the information for accessing the online Personal Safety and Social Responsibilities course please contact ITHelp.student@toiohomai.ac.nz.

12.30pm - 4.30pm

STCW Security Awareness

CLOTHING

Casual all classroom based training.

Saturday & Sunday

9.00am - 3.45pm

STCW Elementary First Aid

Students must complete the Red Cross First Aid App Learning course <https://www.redcross.org.nz/first-aid/first-aid-app/>. This is to ensure that Toi Ohomai is delivering First Aid Training that aligns with the International Maritime Organisations (IMO) learning hours that are prescribed in the IMO Model Course 1.13 Elementary First Aid.

STCW Elementary First Aid aligns with the unit standards 6400, 6401 and 6402, or unit standards 6400, 26551 and 26552. If you're wanting to work abroad on super yachts, oil rigs or the like you're strongly advised to enrol in STCW Elementary First Aid even if you have a current general first aid with the required unit standards.

CLOTHING

Casual all classroom based training. Bring your own lunch - no catering available over the weekend and kitchen facilities are available for your use.
